Fleet Safety Council Educational Conference returns to in-person format in 2022

(ETOBICOKE) —The Fleet Safety Council (FSC) Conference Committee would like to share the following update:

After two successful years of hosting the Fleet Safety Educational Conference in an online format, the conference committee is happy to announce this year's event will take place in person on October 14.

While the conference is still months away, the conference committee has already been working hard to create an informative and exciting agenda for this year's event. We have once again secured Newcom Media Inc.'s John G. Smith as host for the day's events.

This year's Keynote Speaker will be Liane Davey. Known as the "Teamwork Doctor" this New York Times bestselling author is an expert on building effective teams, improving communication, and increasing leadership effectiveness.

For those who are still not comfortable meeting in person, this event will be live streamed. Watch for registration details, as well as information on local accommodation and the bowling social event.

Thank you for your patience and stay safe,

The Fleet Safety Council Annual Conference Committee

The Fleet Safety Council will also be represented at this year's Truck World 2022 event from April 21-23 at the International Centre. Access the Fleet Safety Council free registration link to attend and meet with members of the Fleet Safety Council Educational Conference planning committee and members of the various chapters across the province to learn about this network.
